Internet Translation Resources

FREELANG

On this site you can:

- download Free Offline Dictionary Program and install a bilingual dictionary in your computer;
- search online dictionaries
- use Free Translation Help Service to contact a translator and get some help for free, as long as it is not too long and not for a commercial purpose. You can also join as a translator
- use Forum if you need help translating something
- use Font Center if you need to write or read a document in a language that uses a non-romanized alphabet.

Yandex.Dictionaries [Яндекс.Словари]

Goal of the Yandex Dictionaries [Яндекс.Словари] service is to provide the Internet users with the highest quality, valid information of current interest about all spheres of human life. Sources of such information are universal and thematic encyclopedias, reference books, various Russian and foreign language dictionaries. A needed reference may be easily found with the use of dictionary search that is organized in such a way that its results contain both definitions of a word or a combination of words in encyclopedias, explanatory dictionaries, and reference books and the translation of a query in foreign language dictionaries in addition to the response or link to an appropriate article in Yandex should the 'dictionary' query be opted.
